SEMINARY WILL OPEN SEPT. 5TH; INAUGURATION TO BE HELD OCT. 4

The Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary will open its 126th year on Wednesday, September 5, and a month later will formally install Dr. Harry P. Baughman as its eighth president.

Doctor Baughman, who is an alumnus of Gettysburg college in the class of 1910 and of the seminary in the class of 1913, will be inaugurated Thursday morning, October 4, as the climax of a two-day program that will include a testimonial dinner for Dr. Abel Ross Wentz, the retiring president.

A luncheon for the visiting representatives of church organizations, educational agencies and academic institutions, along with alumni, students and friends will follow.

The new seminary year will open September 5 at 10 a.m. with a service in the Church of the Abiding Presence with Dr. Jacob M. Myers of the faculty as the speaker. New students will participate in an orientation day on Tuesday, September 4.

A new member of the seminary faculty this year will be the Rev. Reginald W. Deitz, director of the Lutheran leadership training camp near Brysonia and recently resigned pastor of the Lutheran church at Columbia, Pa. He will be an assistant professor and an assistant to the president of the seminary. The Rev. Mr. Deitz will teach two practice preaching courses and a course in church history in addition to his administrative duties.

The Rev. Mr. Deitz was previously a member of the seminary faculty as resident instructor on the Cronhardt Foundation while doing graduate work for the degree of master of sacred theology. After a two-year pastorate at Suffern, N. Y., he served for six years on the editorial staff of the Parish and Church School Board of the United Lutheran church. He has been pastor at Columbia for the last two years.

Sister Kenny Gives Body To Medical Science

New York, Aug. 24 (AP)—Sister Elizabeth Kenny, who has devoted her lifetime to fighting infantile paralysis, says she has given her ailing body to medical science to fight Parkinson's disease.

In a news conference yesterday, she said she is under treatment in her native Australia for the disease, a chronic nervous disorder causing shaking palsy and muscular weakness.

"I'm a guinea pig," she added, "I'm giving my body as an experiment."

The 65-year-old nurse (Australians call their nurses sisters), who treats polio by massage and manipulation of the limbs, said a cure for that disease is not far off.

The polio cure, she said, may come in the form of "a simple injection under the skin or some other simple therapeutic measure."

Sister Kenny talked to reporters before her scheduled departure for Copenhagen to attend the second international poliomyelitis conference opening September 2.

REGIONAL PARK OFFICE MOVES

Effective August 28 the regional office, Region No. 24, Pennsylvania Bureau of Parks, will be moved from Caledonia State park to Shawnee State park, Schellsburg, eight miles west of Bedford.

This office has been located at Caledonia since January, 1949, under the supervision of D. W. Geesman, regional park superintendent. The entire personnel consisting of Geesman, Donald Helman, chief clerk, Marion, Pa., and Miss Janet Pilgrim, stenographer, Marion, Pa., will be transferred to the new location.

This office is responsible for the operation and maintenance of ten parks, Caledonia, Pine Grove, Cowans Gap, Greenwood Furnace, Whipple Dam, Poe Valley, Halfway, Black Moshannon, Blue Knob and Shawnee, covering an area roughly extending from Harrisburg to Somerset and north to Clearfield and Williamsport.

Shawnee State park is the newest development in the region, having been started in July, 1950. It now has a rather complete road system, a 451-acre lake, public bathing beach, picnic area and a tenting area.

Governor Signs Colored Oleo Bill

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine signed into law today a bill legalizing the sale of yellow-colored oleomargarine in Pennsylvania.

The governor's action set in motion elaborate plans made by the margarine industry for immediate delivery of the colored product into the state by truck, train, plane and taxicab.

The new law, effective upon the governor's signature, permits sale of yellow oleo in plainly marked one-pound packages for home use only. The ban against use of oleo in public eating houses is continued.

Margarine dealers, expecting approval of the bill by the governor, started making elaborate plans immediately after its final passage, to hasten deliveries of the colored product.

SECRETARY OF U. S. TREASURY SPEAKS TONIGHT AT ATO DINNER

tional officers of Alpha Tau Omega following dinner tonight in Huber Hall, is a member of the Vanderbilt university ATO chapter. His address will be broadcast by WGCT.

At this morning meeting F. N. Abbott, Portland, Me., gave a report on the fraternity's scholarship. Abbott is substituting for Dean Joseph A. Park, of Ohio State university, educational advisor to ATO, whose illness prevented his being at the conference.

Other speakers today were Col. Martin B. Chittick, New York city, (Please Turn to Page 3)

LOCAL OFFICIALS AT GAP EVENTS

Two local officials were among the 200 civil defense leaders of Pennsylvania who were told at Indianapolis Gap today that civil defense has become a permanent part of government on the federal, state and local level.

Dr. Theodore Distler, Lancaster, chairman of the state Council of Civil Defense, told the leaders, "We must learn to accept this inevitable hard fact in modern day society."

Distler spoke at the opening session of a one-day educational program for local civil defense leaders at the big military reservation here.

Burgess William G. Weaver, who is director of civil defense for Adams county, and Eugene S. Sickles, Gettysburg fire marshal and health officer, attended the all-day meeting that will climax this evening with a mock air raid that will be complete with "screech bombs," magnesium flares, explosion of 300 pounds of TNT and the demolition of a group of buildings.

Special Events For 4-H Clubs

The following schedule for next week was announced today by Miss Mary Jane Mickey, county home economics representative:

Tuesday, 1 p.m., 4-H roundup at Gettysburg high school; 8 p.m., special program at the high school in connection with the roundup; Wednesday, Marsh Creek 4-H mother and daughter supper; Thursday, 8 p.m., York Springs, senior extension club meeting in the York Springs high school; Friday, 1 p.m., Littlestown, "Charm in the Home"; 6:30 p.m., Brunsdown, 4-H mother and daughter supper.

ADMITS THEFT OF 2 PAY CHECKS FROM BROTHER

Richard Samuel Kuhn, 23, of Wensville, is in the Adams county jail awaiting sentence on a charge of stealing and cashing two of his brother's pay checks, totaling $111.56. He signed a plea of guilty Thursday night before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder to two counts each of larceny and forgery, and was committed to the Adams county jail in default of $2,000 bail.

Forges Brother's Name

Kuhn was arrested Thursday afternoon by state police of the Gettysburg substation. The information charges that he took letters containing checks, one for $20.80 and the other for $90.76, from the state motor license fund payable to his brother, Marlin L. Kuhn, an employee of the state Highway department, from the mail box at the home of his mother, Mrs. Hazel Kuhn, Wensville.

The information further charges that he forged his brother's name and cashed the checks, one at the Allen B. Hartman store in Mummaburg and the other at the Gettysburg National bank.

TWO DELEGATES FROM ST. JOSEPH AT NFCCS MEET

Dr. Adolph M. Wasilifsky, head of the Division of Humanities of Saint Joseph college, Emmitsburg, is attending the eighth national congress of the National Federation of Catholic College Students at the College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn. The Congress closes September 1.

Dr. Wasilifsky, who is a charter member of the Catholic Broadcasters association, the director of Colleges and Universities and a member of the executive board of that Association will speak to the Congress of 800 students from Catholic colleges and high schools throughout the United States on "What the Radio Commission Means to N.F.C.C.S. and the Need of Expression of Catholic Action in Radio."

Saint Joseph college, holder of the National Radio Commission of the N.F.C.C.S., is represented by senior delegate, Miss Elizabeth Ann Heywood, Boston, Miss Heywood, a junior at St. Joseph's, is co-chairman of the National Radio Commission, secretary of her class and an active member of the Dramatic club.

Aim Of Commission

It is the aim of the National Radio Commission to Christianize the field of radio and television by: "Improving listening tastes of Catholic college students through a Radio Acceptance Poll; serving as a clearing house for original radio scripts for broadcasting purposes through the Script Exchange Library; publishing the Radio Script catalog and Supplement; elaborating upon and distributing the Radio Script Bibliography; selecting and sending a radio script each month to member colleges; sponsoring a National Script Writing contest in conjunction with Father Terence's Ave Maria radio hour; integrating and publicizing activities of other commissions; collaborating with the Colleges and Universities division of Catholic Broadcasters association.

AME Zion Service Will Be Broadcast

The fourth and final broadcast for the month of August will be held at St. Paul's A.M.E. Zion church, South Washington street, Sunday, with the pastor, Rev. J. O. Fountain, speaking from the subject: "The Handwriting On The Wall," 11 a.m. The service will be broadcast over WGCT.

Music will be furnished by the youth choir with Miss Harriet A. Carter and the pastor as the soloists. At 7:30, worship with meditation by the pastor, and congregational singing will be held. The entire broadcast series for this month was made possible through the courtesy of C. W. Epley. The public is invited to attend.

RECEIVES M.A. DEGREE

Miss Lucie Fitzpatrick, M.A., assistant professor of romance languages at Saint Joseph college, Emmitsburg, has been awarded an M.A. degree in Spanish from Middlebury college, Vermont. Miss Fitzpatrick, Manchester, N. H., received an M.A. degree in French from the same institution and her B.S. degree in Education from Boston university.

JUNIOR GOLF TOURNEY

Golfing sons and daughters of Gettysburg Country club members will engage in a junior flight, nine-hole golf tournament at the Country club course beginning promptly at 9 o'clock Saturday. The club pro, Riley Heckert, and George R. Bender, are in charge of arrangements.

Sweet Reward For Honesty

Seven-year-old Charles Gibson takes matters in hand in St. Louis and starts on four ice cream cones at the same time knowing there are more ahead. The youngster and his family will receive all the ice cream they can eat for a month—free of charge. That's part of the reward given Charles when he returned $250 lost by a St. Louis ice cream firm. The firm also presented Charles with a $25 U.S. savings bond. Thus far the Gibson family has averaged a gallon a day—with Charles eating about half of it. (AP Wirephoto)

Here And There News Collected At Random

The following news release from the Department of Highways, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is self-explanatory:

"What price bureaucracy in the Federal Government?"

"The Department of Highways believes it has a partial answer in one incident—nine hundred and four dollars and eighty-six cents of State Motor License Fund money and other costs that cannot be computed readily.

"The way of it is this.

"One of the newer agencies of the Federal Government decided to use the State Highway Department as a vehicle for the distribution of a questionnaire to local units of government, contractors, and others associated with highway construction to a total of 2742 parcels of mail.

"It specified returns must be back and tabulated within an all too short time.

"Consequently first class mail had to be used.

"Each parcel weighed 11 ounces. Postage on each was thirty-three cents. Total weight nearly one ton. Total cost $904.86.

"Self-addressed envelopes had to be prepared with the result the stenographic unit was thrown into overtime. The mail unit likewise. In both instances other important mail had to be deferred.

"In a few days the mail will start its return trip. Then the tabulating section will go into action with probably more overtime and more extra cost.

"Summary of last similar tabulation covered a sheet thirteen and one-half feet long.

SIGNS GUILTY PLEA IN COURT THIS MORNING

Olden Shultz, Biglerville R. 2, signed a plea of guilty in county court this morning to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants, but sentence was deferred until October 15. The charge was filed by state police of the Gettysburg substation. Shultz told the court he was working as a fruit picker, and a letter to the court from his employer was also considered in deferring sentence.

Mervin L. Fishel, York, won a dismissal of his case before the court this morning when a motion to dismiss the charge of failure to yield one-half of the highway was granted on the grounds that the justice of the peace in the case had no jurisdiction.

Fishel was involved in an accident with the car of Grace Chubb, Abbotstown, on May 13, 1951, and the latter filed the charge with Justice of the Peace David Meckley. She testified that just before the expiration of the time limit she attempted to file her complaint with Justice of the Peace George Baker, Abbotstown, but testified that Mr. Baker was not at home. The accident occurred in Abbotstown, and Squire Meckley lives outside the borough.

Driver Is Fined

Squire Baker testified that he was usually at home, but on May 26, when Mrs. Chubb attempted to file the charge, he was in Hanover. The court ruled that Mrs. Chubb should have made more than one effort to file her charge with Squire Baker, within whose jurisdiction the accident occurred. The costs of the action were placed on the county.

3 Cars Involved In Crash Thursday

Three automobiles were involved in a collision seven miles south of Gettysburg on the Emmitsburg road Thursday evening, when Robert A. Wenschhof, 64, Gettysburg R. 2, attempted to make a turn into his driveway and was struck by the car of Donald C. Gish, 27, of Hershey, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

The third car, driven by Charles W. Wiester, 19, of Norwood, Ohio, a student at the University of Southern California, sideswiped the Gish car. Damage to Wenschhof's automobile was estimated at $200, and to the other cars at $100.

KOREAN VET TO BE RE-INTERRED IN LITTLESTOWN

Funeral services for Pfc. Fred K. Myers, 33, Littlestown, who was killed in action in Korea on September 26, 1950, will be held Monday morning, meeting at the J. W. Little and son funeral home, Littlestown, at 8:30 o'clock with a requiem high mass at 9 o'clock at St. Aloysius Catholic church, Littlestown, conducted by the Rev. Edward J. Shanahan, rector. Interment in the church cemetery.

Pfc. Myers was born February 8, 1917, in Germany township, a son of George L. Myers, Littlestown, and the late Carrie (Althoff) Myers. He enlisted August 23, 1949, and after training at Camp Pickett, Va., was sent to Guam on July 22, 1950, later he was sent to Korea. Pfc. Myers served three years in World War II and participated in the Battle of the Bulge as well as in other European engagements. He was a member of St. Aloysius church and the Mason-Dixon Memorial post of the VFW, Littlestown.

Military Rites

In addition to his father he is survived by nine brothers and sisters, Mrs. Albert McClain, Baltimore; Mrs. Joseph Ellis, Philadelphia; George D. Norristown; Mrs. Paul McCann, Hanover; Richard, Littlestown; Joseph, Hanover R. 1; William J., Hanover R. 4; Charles, Baltimore, and Mrs. Eugene Crook, Hanover.

Military rites will be in charge of the Mason-Dixon VFW post and the American Legion. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m. Prayers will be offered at the funeral home Sunday at 8:30 p.m.

MANY ATTEND BAND CONCERT

The Gettysburg Blue and Gray Band presented another of its summer series of "under-the-stars" concerts Thursday evening on the lawn of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars to a crowd estimated to have been the largest of the season.

The program varied from light classics and stirring marches to popular tunes of the day, as follows: "10th Regiment March," by R. B. Hall; "Garde du Corps March," also by R. B. Hall; "Begin the Beguine," Cole Porter; "2nd Regiment Connecticut National Guard March," P. W. Reeves; "Tea for Two," Vincent Youmans; march, "We Americans," J. M. Forster; "Embraceable You," George Gershwin; march, "The Blue and Grey Patrol," C. W. Dalbey; "Birth of the Blues," Ray Henderson; march, "El Capitan," John Philip Sousa; "The Man I Love," George Gershwin; "March of the Majorettes," Frank Simon; "I'll See You Again," Noel Coward; march, "Colonel Bogey," K. J. Alford; "South American Way," J. McHough; march, "Semper Fidelis," John Philip Sousa, and "El Caballero," J. Olivadoti.

Solo parts throughout the evening featured George W. Olinger, trumpeter and Donald Bollinger, trombonist.

Following the concert in which 38 local and Adams county musicians participated, the local VFW post was host to refreshments in the meeting room of the post home.

The band, under the direction of Charles Rogers, will appear Saturday evening at Emmitsburg to furnish music for a festival being held there.

Fairfield Bank Increases Rate

Slight Ray Of Hope Korean Peace Talks May Be Resumed As Reds Ask Ridgway's Reply

Tokyo, Aug. 24 (AP)—Only a tiny ray of hope remained today that Korean truce talks might be resumed.

If they break down completely, the United Nations ground commander said his troops will go back to fighting "with hate and eagerness."

"We feel very confident we can whip the enemy in the present battle area," Gen. James A. Van Fleet said at his Eighth Army headquarters.

The U. N. command in Tokyo had not abandoned all hope for the armistice talks.

Officers searched through a new message from top Communists for an indication that they might want to resume the Kaesong armistice talks which they broke off abruptly Thursday. It was in this harshly worded message they found a ray of hope.

Refer To "Bombing"

The message was from Kim Il Sung, North Korean premier and supreme commander, and Gen. Peng Teh Hui, commander of Chinese troops in Korea. It was addressed to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, top U.N. commander.

The official text was delivered Friday afternoon to Ridgway. He was reported giving it "careful study."

As broadcast by Red radios, the message said:

"It is our hope that the armistice negotiations will proceed smoothly and that a just and reasonable agreement acceptable to both sides will be reached."

But, it continued, because of "the deliberately murderous bombing" the Reds declared "the meeting adjourned as from August 23rd" to wait for Ridgway "to take responsible action with regard to this serious provocation by your side."

Ask For Answer

The message closed: "We lodge our serious protest with you before the eyes of all just people throughout the world, and await your satisfactory answer."

48 Persons Are Killed When Big Transcontinental Airliner Burns After Crashing In California

Oakland, Calif., Aug. 24 (AP)—Forty-eight persons were killed today as a four-engine airliner was shattered into scrap metal when it crashed into a range of low hills near here today.

It was United Airlines' flight No. 615 out of Boston, flying non-stop from Chicago.

It carried 42 passengers and six crew members.

Fire Chief Roland Bendel of Decoto, near where the crash occurred, said the big ship exploded as it fell into a pasture atop a hill, near the handsome red brick Masonic home on the Oakland-San Jose highway.

Parts were scattered over two acres, Chief Bendel said. Most of the bodies and the debris piled up in a 200-foot ravine dipping down from the hill.

The plane was to have landed at Oakland airport at 5:35 a.m. PDT. Chief Bendel said it crashed at 5:30 a.m. Three minutes before that the pilot had talked with the CAA control tower at the airport. He mentioned no difficulty.

The San Francisco Weather bureau commented "weather was not the cause of the crash, but it may have been a contributing factor." The bureau said the cloud ceiling over the scene was between 1,100 and 1,500 feet, the visibility was six miles.

The first bodies recovered there were those of two boys, about five years old, and of a man, believed to be the pilot.

A witness said there was a huge flash as the ship fell, and the explosion rattled windows in the area. The fire burned over several acres.

United Air Lines identified the six in the crew as Pilot Marion W. Heddin of Los Altos, Calif.; First Officer George A. Jewett, Redwood City, Calif.; Flight Engineer Mario A. Durante, Sausalito, Calif.; A. Kessler, flight observer, of Redwood City, chief flight engineer for the line's western division; Stewardess Marilyn Murphy of San Mateo, Calif., and Stewardess In La Verne Sholes of Palo Alto, Calif.

The rolling hills where the plane crashed are covered with scrubby brush and dry grass, and the area, while close to big highways, is difficult of access. The sheriff sent a posse into the hills while the wreckage, still was burning.

Made Three Stops

The crash scene was 1 1/2 miles east of the farming community of Decoto, in southern Alameda county, and about the same distance north of the Masonic home.

This request for a satisfactory answer caught the eye of some officials in Tokyo.

These officials reckoned that if Kim and Peng meant to end the talks completely, they would not have requested a reply. Instead they would have stood on the original statement by their liaison officer that negotiations were "off from now on."

The wording was intended to put the next move up to Ridgway.

Top U.N. command officials made no comment on what Ridgway might do.

Called "Frame Up"

Some observers said there seemed almost no way that the U.N. commander could give a "satisfactory answer" to the Reds on the incident which he already has called "a frame-up, staged from first to last."

The Communists must be well aware of this, these observers said. In their view, the message of Kim and Peng would be merely another device designed to place responsibility for the collapse of truce talks on the U.N. command.

If there is a permanent breakdown, news dispatches from United Nations in New York said the U.N. assembly may have a try at settling the Korean impasse. The next regular assembly session starts in Paris November 6.

Seek "Lost Face"

An information bulletin released by U.N. command headquarters described the Communist charges as "an attempt to win back some of the face lost by their own blunders."

The statement from the top command contained such face-saving statements as this:

"The reason why you dare to unscrupulously continue the provocations is because you have mistaken our patience in striving for peace as a sign of weakness. You assumed that we would not be willing to break off the negotiations on account of these questions. . . . We must tell you that such considerations are wrong."

United Air Lines said the flight originated in Boston, with 36 passengers. A stop was made in Hartford and the big ship left there with 54 passengers. After stops at Cleveland and Chicago, the plane continued to Oakland on a non-stop schedule.

Turnpike Hurts U.S. 30 Trade Say Merchants

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Pennsylvania turnpike has improved business in some locations and hurt it in others, according to the men whose business it is to know.

Spokesmen for hotel managers, restaurants and service stations say the famous toll road is a mixed blessing—that it has actually hurt business on such roads as old U. S. Route 30, which parallels the turnpike.

"There is no question but that the turnpike has had an adverse effect on city hotels and roads such as Route 30," said Secretary Everett Allen of the Pennsylvania Hotels association.

Other sections, however, such as those near toll road interchanges, have boomed although no real survey has been made to determine exact results.

Motor courts which have sprung up near some interchanges do a thriving business.

Business along Route 30 from Irwin to Pittsburgh has fallen off considerably since a new 11-mile extension has placed the turnpike western terminus in another area.

But Route 22, which now gets the Pittsburgh bound traffic, is getting rush business on its roadside installations.

The Turnpike commission claims the turnpike has aided industry, citing many firms that have located new plants at points just off the highway. The commission claims also that the road is a boon to the port of Philadelphia.

TO ATTEND CHURCH MEET

Edgar Hollinger, of the Waynesboro Seventh-day Adventist church, has been appointed an official delegate for the Gettysburg-Waynesboro area to the first international Laymen's Congress of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination in Grand Lodge, Mich., next week.

WANTS A-BOMB USED ON REDS IF TALKS FAIL

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP) — Rep. Brooks (D-La.) called today for use of the atomic bomb in Korea if the Communists definitely end the Kaesong cease-fire talks.

The Reds called the talks off yesterday after charging that a United Nations plane had bombed Kaesong. Later, however, they suggested they were ready to negotiate again if their demands were met.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway rejected the Communists' charges, saying the alleged bombing was a fake. "a frame-up, staged from first to last."

President Truman endorsed this view in a statement given out at his news conference yesterday. He shed no light on whether the negotiations may be resumed. What-ever the new developments mean, Mr. Truman said, "they obviously were not calculated to move the negotiations forward to an armistice."

"Use Every Weapon"
Brooks, acting chairman of the House Services committee, told a reporter today that if the talks break down completely "this country should not hesitate to use every weapon it has, including the atomic bomb."

Brooks also said, as the House began a three weeks' vacation, that Armed Services committee members could expect to be recalled should the Korean negotiations be definitely ended.

He added that a worsening of the Mediterranean situation, which he termed now "very serious," might likewise bring the committee back into special session. This was a reference to suspension of the British-Iranian oil discussions in Tehran.

FORMER COURT CLERK EXPIRES

W. David Sheely, 84, of 68 North Queen street, Littlestown, a former clerk of the courts in Adams county, died this morning at 8:10 o'clock at the Warner hospital. He had been in ill health for some time.

Mr. Sheely was a retired school teacher, having taught in Littlestown and rural schools for a number of years. He was a member of Christ Reformed church, Littlestown, and the POS of A. Littlestown. His wife died last year.

Surviving is a son, Clarence K. Littlestown.

Bail of John D. Topper, McSherrytown, charged with operating a motor vehicle after suspension of his license, and Robert L. Helwig, Gettysburg R. 1, with also driving after suspension, was declared forfeited by the court when both failed to appear this morning.

Support Hearings

In the case of Lawrence E. Harris, Abbotstown, charged by his wife, Verna J. Harris, also of Abbotstown, with desertion and non-support, the court ordered Harris to pay $35 a week for the support of the couple's four children and pay the costs of the prosecution. He was released on a recognizance bond of $500.

William Weigandt, Gettysburg R. 3, charged with desertion and non-support by his wife, Sara E. Poppay Weigandt, 156 Seminary avenue, was directed to pay his wife $12 a week, pay the costs of prosecution and furnish a recognizance bond of $500.

Two other cases of desertion and non-support were settled, with the costs placed on the defendants. Stewart E. Chronister, East Berlin and his wife, Verna June Chronister, informed the court they were living together. Lawrence E. Billeber, New Oxford, and his wife, Alice L. Billeber, also reported they had settled their differences.

The court announced the appointment this morning of George P. Black, Baltimore street, as substitute court crier during the illness of Frank Dougherty, Gettysburg, regular court crier. Sixteen accounts were confirmed at the morning session of court, which adjourned at 12:10 p.m. until the afternoon session.

ASSERTS "GOOD WILL" SOLUTION TO IRAN ISSUE

London, Aug. 24 (AP) — Richard Stokes, Britain's chief negotiator, today blamed "Marxist-Leninist" theories dreamed up behind the scenes by Iranian leaders for the breakdown of crucial oil talks in Tehran.

He said, however, that with good will on both sides there was no reason a solution could not be found eventually although Britain would await Iranian guarantees of acceptable working conditions for British employees before reopening the talks.

Stokes flew into London as Britains called on her lawyers to take over the dispute which diplomats have failed to solve.

Legal experts prepared an appeal to the International Court of Justice in the Hague, the Netherlands, for a "definitive judgment."

Refuse Court Suggestion

Iran refused to accept a recommendation from the court seven weeks ago that production continue while the two countries tried to agree on methods of nationalizing the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil company.

Denouncing leaders "behind scenes" dreaming up impracticable Marxist-Leninist "nationalization theories," he said these people have yet to learn "there is considerable difference between practice and theory" in application of their ideas.

Marx and Lenin were the leading exponents of Communist theory. Stokes said the main obstacle to breaking the deadlock was how to handle the British staff at Abadan, the world's largest refinery.

Britain wants working conditions guaranteed by a British management, Iran, on the other hand, insists that the British oil staff be directly responsible to the projected National Iranian Oil company.

Commends Harriman

The British negotiating mission proposed appointment of a British general manager, in charge of all oil production operations, but responsible to the National Iranian Oil company.

Iran's Premier Mohammed Mossadegh turned this down, but offered no counter proposal.

The British Lord Privy Seal paid tribute to W. Averell Harriman for "the wonderful job" President Truman's envoy did in getting Iranian leaders to face the facts of the situation.

"It would be a mistake to think no progress has been made. As a result of Mr. Harriman's efforts, a bridge has been built—and a much better understanding of our respective points of view has been established."

lads with plenty of time on their hands for figuring new ways to waste tax dollars ever got around to reading it in its entirety.

"Of course it is one way of reducing that gigantic postal deficit."

A bill prohibiting the display of any national or international flag in equal or superior prominence to the United States flag has been introduced in the U. S. Senate by Senator Edward Martin.

In presenting the bill, Senator Martin declared that on many occasions he had seen the flags of other countries, and particularly the flag of the United Nations, flown higher and more prominently than the Stars and Stripes.

"Our national emblem is a sacred symbol for all Americans," Senator Martin said on the Senate floor. "In our land it should be kept high and proud wherever it is displayed. It should neither share nor surrender its rightful place of honor."

The bill provides one exception, permitting the United Nations flag to have precedence at the headquarters of the United Nations or at any other place where an official meeting of the U. N. is being held.

Penalties provided in the bill are $250 fine or 6 months imprisonment or both.

From Ashton, Ill., comes the following poem written by a recent visitor to Gettysburg:

GETTYSBURG
I stood upon the hallowed ground
Of Gettysburg today,
And saw the spots on which they died,
Those men in Blue and Gray.

I visited the resting place
Of many of those men,
And listened to the stories
Of their bravery again.

I sensed a deep humility
As on those stones I read,
The epitaphs of Generals
And other soldier dead.

The heart within me swelled
With pride
As silently I trod
Amongst the resting places
Of those men beneath the sod.

Yes, I stood upon that hallowed ground
This bright warm April day,
And bowed my head in reverent prayer
For those men in the Blue and the Gray.

The Poet Larry-ette

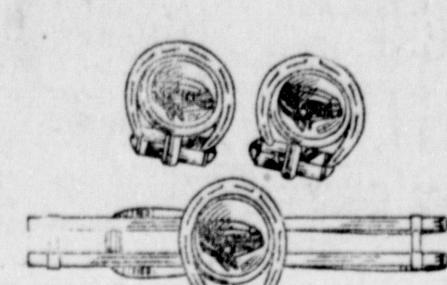

When Stanislaw Zakrzewski, a Long Island barber, died some time ago, he remembered the United States of America in his will. The amount of the legacy—$100—is not important. What counts is the spirit which prompted the gift. In his will Mr. Zakrzewski, who emigrated as a young man from Poland and settled in this country, explained that "the money was a token of gratitude for the privilege of enjoying freedom and the opportunities offered by the United States of America."

A Russian delegate to the U. N. cited a number of instances in which certain American papers had shown a tendency to "dream" or issue incorrect information. Then he said to Mrs. Roosevelt, "You are not going to deny that?"

"The difference between our press, which is free," Mrs. Roosevelt replied, "and yours, which is controlled, is the difference between an apple and an egg. In a free press, as in an apple, if one spot is spoiled, the rest is still good. In a controlled press, as in an egg, if one spot is spoiled, the whole thing is bad."

LITTLE WORLD SERIES TITLE FOES NOW SET

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—North Austin, Tex., and Stamford, Conn., prepared today for their championship battle in the Little League World Series tomorrow while two other teams played for consolation honors.

Matched for the third prize tilt tonight are San Bernardino, Calif., and Fairmont, W. Va., both of whom lost in semi-final contests yesterday. North Austin blanked San Bernardino 9-0 while Stamford blasted Fairmont 11-0.

By a coincidence, teams from Texas and Connecticut also played in last year's finals. But the teams were from different cities — Houston and Bridgeport.

A crowd of upwards of 10,000 is expected for the championship game tomorrow in the Little League stadium. Play-by-play will be broadcast over a National network (NBC).

Yesterday North Austin turned five successive first inning hits into six runs and went on from there to shut out the Californians.

While the winners blasted San Bernardino pitchers Steve Winter and Jim Turner for eight hits, Greg Martin effectively scattered four California hits over the distance. Home runs by Harvey Mabry and Bill Cartwright helped the cause. Mabry's was a three-run drive in the big first.

Communist Party Is Losing Numbers

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—Membership in the U.S. Communist party has dropped from 54,174 to 43,217 in a year's time, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has told senators.

And each party member now has back of him about seven to eight fellow travellers, as against ten several years ago, Hoover told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee March 1 while testifying in support of his request for funds. His testimony was made public Wednesday.

But Hoover cautioned that the remaining party members constitute "a hard core dedicated to sabotage and to militant revolt against this country if and when the time comes."

He said 96.4 per cent of the party's current members are American citizens, either native-born or naturalized.

New York, Aug. 24 (AP) — Bernarr MacPadden, 83-year-old physical culturist, has scheduled his parachute jump into the water below Niagara Falls for the Labor Day week-end.

INDIANS BEAT YANKS; LEADING BY THREE GAMES

By RALPH RODEN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Cleveland Indians, streaking three games ahead in the bristling American league pennant fight, are in an excellent position today to smash the New York Yankees' hopes of a third straight flag.

Manager Al Lopez' fighting gang have the proud Yankees on the ropes and set up for the kill.

The Indians moved three games ahead of New York yesterday as Bob Lemon turned back the Yanks, 2-1, in the opener of a vital three game series.

It's Wynn Tonight
Early Wynn (14-11), a tough guy when the chips are on the line, will go against the Yanks tonight before an expected capacity crowd in Cleveland's municipal stadium.

The Yanks, with their backs to the wall, are gambling on Stubby Overmire (2-7) to pitch them back into the scrap. For the finale on Saturday Lopez has Mike Garcia (17-8) ready to meet Ed Lopat (16-7), slow balling left-hander who has not been sharp of late. Lopat, however, has been a thorn in the side of the Indians for years, boasting a 31-8 lifetime record against Cleveland.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel selected Overmire for the important second game because both of his previous choices, Allie Reynolds and Bob Kuzava, are afflicted with injuries.

Lemon Beats Raschi
Lemon permitted only three hits in out-pitching Vic Raschi yesterday in a game that was highlighted by a near fist fight in the seventh inning between Bob Avila of the Indians and Gene Woodling of the Yanks.

The Yanks scored first in the third when Hank Bauer stole home on the front end of a double steal. The Indians tied the score in the fourth on a walk to Dale Mitchell and singles by Avila and Harry Simpson. Mitchell doubled home Jim Heghan with the winning run in the fifth.

Avila and Woodling tangled when the Yank outfielder plowed into the little Tribe second baseman in a successful attempt to break up a double play. The two were separated before any blows were struck and allowed to remain in the game.

In other American league games the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Chicago White Sox, 6-3, the Boston Red Sox humbled the St. Louis Browns, 9-3, and the Washington Senators humiliated the Detroit Tigers, 10-0. The St. Louis Cardinals downed the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-2, in the only National league game.

The advance sale, as of today, was 40 percent above last year.

This obvious interest in the tournament is as surprising as it is pleasing to officials of the U.S.L.T.A.

There have been some poor years since the war. There have been many days during the title event when you could have hunted moose in the big stadium. A near-capacity crowd for the final had been anticipated.

Men who had devoted their lives to the sport were beginning to express fears that tennis, as a spectacle, finally hit the shutes.

So they were a very chipper group when they pinned on their badges and sat down at the annual pre-tournament luncheon with members of the press.

The officials have two theories about the boom in the nationals. Some think the fans have developed a burning desire to see Dick Savitt since the wonder boy from Orange, N. J., came from nowhere to win both the Australian and Wimbledon titles in the past year.

Others say this isn't it at all. They claim the increased interest arises from the fact that this promises to be one of the most "open" championships ever held, with any one of six or eight entrants as likely to win it as not.

ELKS DIVIDE GAMES

The Gettysburg Elks softball team divided a pair of games played Thursday evening on the Recreation park field. In the opener the Elks defeated Greenmount 18-10 with Ronnie Williams as the winning hurler. Bendersville crushed the locals 18-1 in the second game.

Bobby Dillman, Elks hurler, did not yield a hit until the fifth inning when the team defense collapsed and the visitors went on to win handily.

Hagerstown and Allentown kept up their red hot fight for the Interstate league pennant, the Braves swamping Harrisburg 9 to 1 in the first game of a doubleheader last night and then losing the nightcap 7 to 6, while the Cardinals edged Salisbury 4 to 3.

Thus Hagerstown holds a half game margin in the standings although it is one percentage point behind Allentown's .678. The Braves have won 84 games and lost 40 against Allentown's 82 wins and 39 defeats.

In other games, the Lancaster Red Roses beat the Wilmington Blue Rocks 2 to 1 and Sunbury's Giants blanked the York Red Roses 3 to 0.

Los Angeles Rams Plaster Bears 42-14

Los Angeles—Two exhibition victories hardly make a regular season of battle in the National Football league, but championship hopes of the Los Angeles Rams sprang into full bloom today.

Coach Joe Stydahar's explosive Rams plastered a 42-14 licking on the proud Chicago Bears last night in what the record book says was the worst defeat suffered by George Halas' Midway Monsters since 1929.

In that year, in regular season competition, the Chicago Cards whipped the Bears, 40-6, and the New York Giants added a 34-0 whipping.

The Rams, scoring seven touchdowns, had the Bears bleeding by a 42-7 count until the final two minutes. Then a Ram fumble on their own five set up an easy chance to collect a touchdown.

A crowd of 65,314 witnessed the contest.

LOPEZ CAN SEE PENNANT AHEAD

Cleveland, Aug. 24 (AP)—Indian leader Al Lopez all but predicted a Cleveland championship today following yesterday's "key" 2-1 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Lopez refused to make a flat prediction, but he implied nothing less when he said: "I don't see how they can stop us now."

"We're getting the best pitching in the league right now," he said. "Our hitting, while not too strong, has been timely. Our defense has been brilliant. The fellows have the confidence. And we have a three-game lead."

"I said all along if we can build up a five-game lead by the time we head for our final eastern swing, we'll win the flag," Lopez declared. "Unless we lose the next two to the Yankees, it looks like we'll have that lead."

And what was the feeling in the rival New York camp? Have the Yankees conceded yet?

"We've conceded nothing," said Casey Stengel. "Does that fellow (Lopez) know that there are still five weeks to go? My pitching is a little fouled up right now, but it should straighten itself out in three-four days."

LOCAL 9 MEETS GRANITE IN SP PLAYOFF GAME

Opening games of the Shaughnessy playoffs for the South Penn league championship are included in Sunday's schedule of baseball games throughout the county.

Gettysburg, who entered the playoffs when Green Springs withdrew, will play Granite on the New Oxford field, in the first of a best of three series. In a similar series, Hunterstown will play at Brushtown. Winners of the two series will then meet in another three-game affair for the title.

The Pen-Mar league, which concludes its regular schedule on Labor Day, has the following games listed for Sunday: Fairfield at Taneytown, in a scrap for first place, Westminster at Cashtown, Littlestown at Emmitsburg, and Thurmont at McSherrystown.

Fairfield has carded an exhibition game with the strong Shippensburg team to be played at Fairfield Saturday at 2 p.m.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP) — Six teams, two of them undefeated, remained to battle today for the limited division championship of the All American Amateur Baseball association. The undefeated teams are Brooklyn and Maryland State, who meet tonight. Brooklyn is the defending champion.

The other four teams, each with a single loss, clash this afternoon: Washington vs. New Orleans, New York vs. Baltimore. The losers will be eliminated.

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP) — The Pennsylvania American Legion Junior baseball championship enters the final stages this week-end as Clarence, western titlist, meets Pottstown, eastern champion, in a best two out of three elimination series.

York, central state champion, was eliminated yesterday in two games, Clarence taking the first, 5-2, and Pottstown, a decisive winner on the second, 11-2, under the lights.

Vandalia, Ohio, Aug. 24 (AP) — The new president of the Amateur Trap Shooting Association of America is Frank E. Dissinger, 55-year-old retired farmer of Lebanon, Pa. Dissinger, who has been president of the Pennsylvania State Trap Shooting association since 1944, was elected yesterday to succeed Dr. H. N. Alford, Atlanta, Ga. The Pennsylvania handicap committee for seven years and has served three terms as vice president of the parent association.

Shawnee-On-Delaware, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP) — Henry Williams, of Berks County club, Kutztown, Pa., and Rod Munday, of York (Pa.) Country club, will meet here Sunday in a 36-hole match for the Philadelphia District Professional Golfers association championship.

Williams, winner of the title in 1949, and Munday, a runner-up in the 1948 tournament, both shot par golf yesterday to reach the championship round.

Mrs. Wickerham Is Brought To Hospital: Mrs. Ralph D. Wickerham, East Broadway, was transferred from the Bedford hospital, where she had been a patient since August 13 as the result of an automobile accident, to the Annie M. Warner hospital on Saturday. Mrs. Wickerham was brought to the local hospital in the Gettysburg ambulance, driven by Charles Myers.

Clabaugh - Small: Miss Marie S. Small, Gettysburg, and Joseph A. Clabaugh, Chambersburg, were married Saturday in the parsonage of Grace Lutheran church, Westminster. The associate pastor, the Rev. J. Hess Belt, performed the ring ceremony. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Small.

To Operate Inn: Miss Hazel Buehl, Gettysburg, opened the Panorama Inn, four miles south of Gettysburg on the Emmitsburg road, Friday.

Joe Louis Knocks Out Jack Sharkey: New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Braddocks and the Schmeling look to their laurels, Joe Louis, the Detroit man-killer, is on the warpath again.

In the Yankee stadium Tuesday night the negro showed a crowd of 35,000 roaring fans the Joe Louis of the Primo Carnera and Max Baer fights in knocking out Jack Sharkey, of Boston, in the third round of their 10-round bout.

It was the most crushing defeat in the Boston veteran's long ring career. Louis flattened him three times for a count of nine before firing two devastating lefts to the head that sent the former champion to the canvas again, this time for keeps.

The victory once again projected Louis, hailed as a super-fighter until his stunning defeat by Max Schmeling in June, back into the fist spotlight and ranked him as the No. 1 contender for a shot at the winner of the forthcoming James J. Braddock-Max Schmeling title engagement.

Dr. Cline's Party Returns from Europe: Dr. Thomas L. Cline's European tour party of 25, including 12 Adams county, docked Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at New York.

Residents of Gettysburg and Adams county who made the trip included the following: Miss Ellen Tipton, Miss Evelyn Orner, Arendtsville; Miss Mary Hartman, Cash-town; Mrs. Carrie Stauffer and son, Howard; Miss Clara Schmidt, Dr. Allen Sloat, Miss Jessica Weaver, Miss Sara Black, Miss Miriam Walt-emyer, Miss Martha Jane Herman, Harrisburg; Miss Ortha Taylor, Codorus; and Miss Helen Brindle, Chambersburg, were among others who were in the party.

Poultry Tour Coming Here: The twelfth annual poultry tour of the Delaware state poultry association will be held Tuesday and Wednesday and will include visits to farms in this vicinity and a tour of the Gettysburg battlefield.

Arrangements for the party's stay in Gettysburg were made by M. T. Hartman and Roy Heckenluber.

Entertains at Caledonia: Miss Margaret Jones, Hanover, entertained at a supper-brover Monday evening at her summer home at Caledonia in honor of Mrs. Jacob Brucher. The guests included Miss Mary Bell, Miss Marie Flynn, Mrs. P. J. McGlynn, Miss Mildred Hart-zell, Miss Louise Hartzell, Miss Virginia Partner, Miss Betty Plank, Miss Martha Stallsmith, Miss Ruth Stouck and Miss Rebecca Ziegler.

Gantz-Carson: The marriage of Miss Minnie Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Carson, of Fairfield, and Walter G. Gantz, son of Mrs. Fannie Gantz, near Waynesboro, took place Monday morning in Hagerstown, with the Rev. F. H. Snively officiating.

After returning from a two-weeks' trip through the west they will live at the home of the bridegroom temporarily.

THE WIND

Here in my favorite island retreat I have for years sat and watched the effect of the wind. The large variety of trees give accent to the touch of this wind. The poplars have leaves that nervously reflect the sunlight, and glimmer like tiny particles of silver. The different varieties of green on the great trees, that have for more than a century been growing to their maturity, give out a fascinating display as the wind bends them to and fro.

Outside my cabin I watch the shadows play like little runaways on the green grass and about the verandah. All day the bending and meeting of these friendly trees almost humanly whisper their joy and satisfaction, and scampering across the waters of the lake are millions of waves running their happy race to the rocky shore, to meet the lengthening shadows of the day. And when night time arrives I have watched the bursting of color from sunsets that stream through the thicket of forest nobility, and later in the evening I watch the stars dance upon the surface of the water, and dodge the gentle wind that still wants to play the hours away.

There is a song to this wind, as well. Poets have written about it many a time. I would too, if I were a poet, but I only have a poet's heart and appreciation, and not his genius! There is something divinely peaceful and comforting to the touch of this wind. It exercises the sturdy trees, and helps to give new life to the young in nature. I have watched birds cling to branches that swayed in the wind, as though they took sport and enjoyment in the process.

One of the most beautiful books I have ever read was that one by Ann Lindbergh, which she titled: "Listen, The Wind!" People who pilot planes through the miles above the earth do a great deal of thinking, speculating, and even praying in devotion, as they journey with the wind. The wind becomes their companion, and often their guide. I like to think of the wind as God breath in the world.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "This Thing Called Faith."

JUSTIFIABLE NEGLECT
If you were at a summer camp.
A little girl of ten,
Although you had a postage stamp
A paper and a pen,
With boats to row and trees to climb
And woodland paths to roam,
Do you suppose you'd find the time
To write to folks at home?

Again, if you were ten years old
At camp, where mother went,
And had a blanket you must fold
And tidy keep your tent,
If you must put your things away,
Including brush and comb,
Could you take time from work and play
To write to folks at home?

If you'd a grandpa fond of you
And letters came from him
And you had so much else to do,
Say dance and ride and swim;
If you must go to bed each night
When counselors said you should,
Would you have any time to write,
Although you'd said you would?

Those in the group include Ida Mae Alexander, Betty Jane Deatrick, Winifred Miller, Sara MacPherson, Mary Jane Pittenturf, Betty Crouse and Helen McCauslin.

FOUR VOYAGERS

PAUSE FOR REST

Ashland, Ky., Aug. 24 (AP)—Four young voyagers, New Orleans bound on the raft "Lethargia," stopped over here for a spell and affirmed that their much publicized adventure is going well.

But skipper Mary Ellen McGrady was slightly put out because, in her words, the public has been given a wrong idea about the purpose of the 1,800-mile river trip from New Kensington, Pa., to New Orleans.

"We aren't conducting any sociological experiment," said the 24-year old University of Michigan student. "In fact, it isn't any sort of experiment unless you call an attempt to reach New Orleans by raft an experiment."

She was backed up by the others—Geraldine Garcia, 23, Boston; Milton E. Borden, 30, New Bedford, Mass.; and Donald A. Brown, 23, another University of Michigan student.

When the four set out last month, Miss McGrady was quoted as saying, "It is an experiment in confined living. We seek to determine the reactions of one another after two months of close living."

Basically, she said yesterday, the trip is one of adventure and sight-seeing along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Beyond that, though, the crew intends to write a magazine article about the voyage, illustrating it with river sketches by Miss Garcia. The four hope eventually to tell the story of their travels in a book.

All are well tanned and appear in fine health and spirits. Any arguments? Well, admitted Borden, "We've had a few squabbles." He added quickly "—mainly over navigation problems."

East Berlin

East Berlin—Miss Bettie Tierney was a visitor during the week to the Hanover hospital where Miss Bernardino Corrigan, Baltimore, is a patient, suffering with fractures of both wrists and minor head injuries sustained when she fell down the entire front stairway at her McSherrystown summer home where she resides each year from May till December.

Mrs. Charles Newton has been under the care of a local physician because of an abscess which formed on her side. She is able to be about and expects to spend several days at her farm home in Virginia to attend to business developed by the recent death at the Newton home of her mother, Mrs. Hester Cooper. Mrs. Newton's niece, Miss Annie Byrd, formerly of Relief, N. C., who had spent several months residing with the Newtons, is now living in York where she recently accepted a position.

The Dillsburg band has been engaged to play Saturday evening at the grounds of the Bermudian Reformed church. Two Churches, north of town, where the Women's Guild will hold their annual festival.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hilbert, Hanover, were visitors during the week at the home of the Clayton Mool family who recently took possession of the Hilbert house on Abbottstown street.

The Worth While club, including a number of local young men and women, conducted its August meeting Friday evening with a covered dish picnic supper at Hofman's Grove, near Red Run church. Mrs. Mary Kathryn Meredith Nell, who resided in Hanover and had a position with the news department of the newspaper there before her marriage earlier this year to Benjamin F. Nell, formerly of R. 1, has accepted a position on the editorial staff of a paper in York where the couple are housekeeping.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Kohler and daughter, Brenda, have been spending a part of the month in Florida visiting friends.

Word has been received by local friends that Wayne Thomas, Thomasville R. 1, a graduate of the local high school in 1947, is now doing vocal entertaining at the

Mr. and Mrs. William Eisenhart, Jr., are now housekeeping in the apartment at the David S. Kime building, East Locust street. Mrs. Eisenhart was formerly Miss Lorraine Forry, Abbottstown. The former occupants, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Kime, Jr., and daughters, Linda and Connie, are living in the former Edward Livingston property south of town which they purchased several months ago.

Visitors to this section recently were Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Schimmel and brother, Warren Schimmel, all of Philadelphia, who have now returned to that city. The Schimmel brother, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Schimmel, Hampton, are both graduates of the local high school.

The annual outing of the congregation of Bermudian Reformed church took place during the week.

You can Beat the Bushes—but you can't Beat this

If you want to know why shrewd car shoppers are saying "Smart Buy's Buick," take a look at this.

It's the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's roomier than most 4-door sedans, higher-powered than many costlier cars—and priced, as you can see, right down near the lowest.

Now, we ask you: where can you beat it for the money?

Can you beat this beauty on looks and style and rich bearing in any other car near its price?

Can you match, at the same money, the big power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine (128 hp with Dynaflo Drive*)—or the big miles-per-gallon figure it delivers with such thrills?

Can you equal this traveler's roominess in any other car of comparable cost—get full-size headroom, legroom and hip-room both front and rear in any other 2-door automobile?

Can you come even near the gentle levelness of its ride and the solid steadiness of its going—have coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube keel beneath you—except in another Buick?

And where can you top the restful ease and luxurious smoothness of this sweet-heart's Dynaflo Drive* in any other automobile at any price?

The answers, from a lot of certain-sure folks, sum up to a great big, "YOU CAN'T!" But why take anyone else's word for it?

Come in and get your own answers. Look over this bed-rock-priced Buick—compare it with any other automobile at the same money—and you'll agree you can't beat this smartest of buys.

NO TYPHOON — JUST TWO BOYS

Los Gatos, Calif., Aug. 24 (AP) — Richard A. Chiappellone arrived at his brand new home near here yesterday after a day out of town.

Proudly anticipating his first view of the structure, which he opened just Sunday after three years of labor in his spare time, he was horrified to find:

Every window but two broken; every mirror and picture shattered; bedroom furniture smashed and strewn on the ground outside; a heater ripped from the wall; kitchen appliances thrown down a hillside; all the upstairs furniture in a heap at the bottom of the stairs; a radio dismantled and hurled from a window; holes punched in inside walls; two dozen jars of jam splattered around.

The remains of fires made with playing cards, shotgun shells and drapes in living room, kitchen and bath.

Milk poured in a piano; sugar dumped on the lawn.

Every blossom in the garden uprooted or smashed.

Earthquake? Typhoon?

No, said Santa Clara county deputy sheriffs. Two boys aged 9 and 11.

Deputy Ray Pantiga said the pair ran away from home over the weekend and entered Chiappellone's house. The boys were placed in the county juvenile home last night.

Neighbors, who heard the noise, thought it was Chiappellone putting a few finishing touches on his masterpiece.

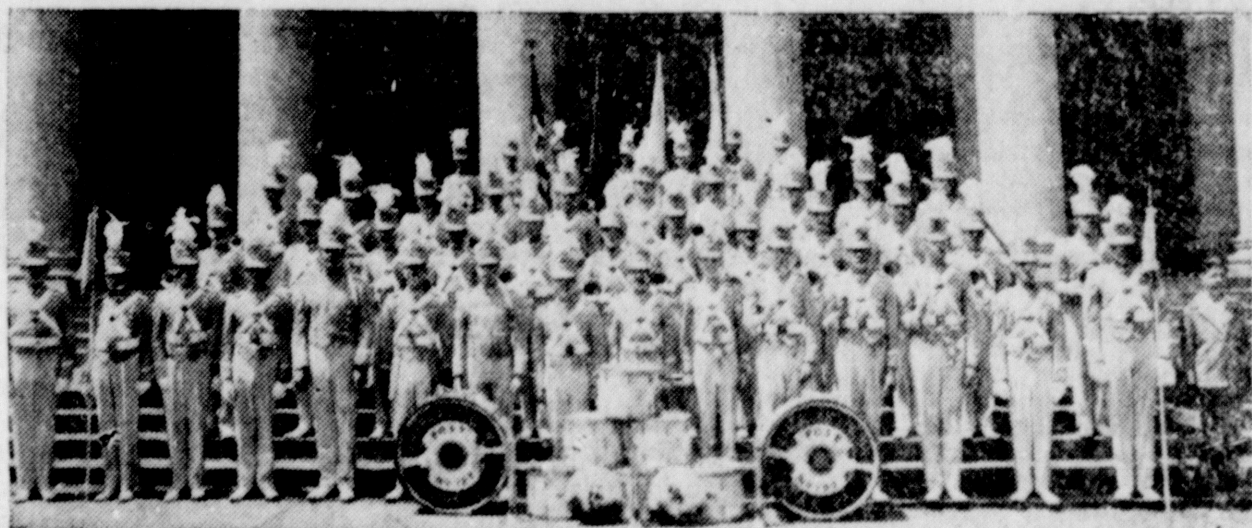

Greensburg Papers Raised To 5 Cents

Greensburg, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP) — The publisher of Greensburg's two daily newspapers said Thursday the price of both will be hiked from four to five cents a copy beginning September 1 because of higher operating costs and a scarcity of skilled labor.

Robert B. Herbert also announced his plant will go on a five-day week September 10 with the Evening Tribune dropping its Saturday issue and the Morning Review its Monday paper. He said this schedule will provide the city with one local newspaper each day. No Sunday paper is published.

SHARP REACTION TO TRUMAN PLEA

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP) — President Truman's delayed blast at what he called the three "worst provisions" of the new economic controls law has touched off a series of explosive moves in Congress.

Three Republican senators, Ferguson (Mich.), Nixon (Calif.) and Welker (Idaho), accepted Mr. Truman's tardily worded economic message to Congress yesterday as a political challenge.

Expressing doubt that the President sincerely wanted controls enforced, they quickly introduced a bill to repeal the three provisions the President disliked.

The Senate Banking committee, after a hurriedly-called and reportedly heated closed-door meeting, agreed to public hearings next Thursday and Friday on the repeal proposals.

Senator Moody (D-Mich.), a committee member, told a reporter today he thinks it's possible Congress will reverse itself on the 23-day-old controls law. "I'm going to do everything in my power to see that it's done before we recess," Moody added.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he would support some of the presidential requests but questioned whether there is time to act on any more controversial bills, with "adjournment coming along fast."

"Seventh Heaven" At Totem Pole Theater

A popular combination of Loretta Leversee and Len Rosenon for the leading roles in the familiar story of Paris in World War I, "Seventh Heaven," is playing to large audiences at the Totem Pole playhouse on the Caledonia-Pine Grove Furnace road this week.

Cast in an important supporting role is Karl Genus, director of the Karl Genus company that has been playing on the "Lazy Susan" stage since late June. Genus is cast as "Colonel Brissac."

Rosenon is "Chico" and Loretta is "Diane." Other Totem Pole favorites including Al Hinckley, Joe Caldwell, Estelle Owens, Wallace Eley, Kenneth Dobbs and Judy Price appear in addition to three guest actors from Chambersburg, Elizabeth Bowers, Gene Farkas and Thomas Crider.

Next week the final play of the season will be presented with a final matinee and evening performance on Labor Day. The attraction will be Mary Chase's comedy, "Harvey," the six-foot Puka rabbit, that has gained great popularity on stage and screen. There will be a matinee next Wednesday and evening performances from Tuesday through Saturday.

News Briefs

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP) — Pennsylvania's distressed school districts will get some money from the commonwealth during the Legislature's recess but it won't be what they had hoped for.

The Senate Tuesday agreed to a $420,000 House reduction in an appropriation bill largely to provide some funds to pay Schuylkill and Northumberland county teachers who have gone unpaid for months.

Originally the bill appropriated $750,000 to meet the emergency. The House pared this to $270,000 and cut it a second time when the Senate restored the original amount.

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur is reported to have turned down a government invitation to address the Japanese peace treaty conference on the ground it might put him in the light of representing the Truman administration.

An aide in New York quoted MacArthur as saying he would not attend the conference opened in San Francisco September 4 "short of a direct invitation" by the conference itself.

RECTOR DIES

Laporte, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP) — The Rev. Eugene A. Heim, 74, retired Episcopal minister, died Wednesday at his summer home here. A native of Lancaster, Pa., he was rector of churches in Baltimore and in the Pennsylvania communities of New Milford, Reading, West Pittston and Laporte. Since his retirement he had been living in Norristown, Pa.

YORK SPONSORS MUSIC CONTEST

York's state championship drum and bugle corps will be the host Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Small athletic field, York, for the Pen-Mar circuit drum and bugle corps competition, the first interstate competition in 15 years, when the city was host to the state American Legion convention. The occasion is the third in a series of competitions to be held under the auspices of the Pen-Mar circuit.

Participating in this competition, in addition to York's corps, who, as hosts, will render an exhibition performance, will be the famous "Yankee Rebels," Hamilton American Legion Post No. 20 Corps, of Baltimore; the "Longshoremen" VFW No. 1462 Corps, of Wormleysburg, open class state champions; Hanover's Harold H. Bair No. 14 A.L. Post Corps, who have captured the Class "B" championship at the Pittsburgh convention; the Hershey American Legion Post Corps, who won Class "C" championship at Pittsburgh, and others.

Anti-Cussing Club Has Picnic Fund

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 24 (AP) — The Anti-Cussing club of Connie Marker's east side cafe and bar will throw a picnic Sunday. Members will spend a $200 kitty collected on 10 cent fines for 2,000 "damns" and stronger words.

Marker, who says swearing annoys him, thought up the fine and club idea last March. Anybody fined automatically becomes a club member.

"The fines actually have cut down cussing," Marker said. "Most of the men don't enjoy it — it's just a habit."

"About a dime a night is as much as we usually get from a member," he added. "Although, sometimes, a fellow will have a couple beers and rip off a dollar's worth."

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP) — The Anthracite Institute has urged hard coal users to begin stockpiling coal in the summer as a means of easing coal shortages in the winter. The institute's bulletin explained that few anthracite consumers order their coal in the summer, particularly if they live near the hard coal fields.

Fayne And Fester

A musical duo that includes selections on musical glasses and tunes on dolls in which the dolls' heads are used to sound the notes will appear at the South Mountain Fair during the week of September 4 to 8, inclusive. Fayne and Fester conclude their performance by playing popular numbers on bells.

CALLS THORPE BEST ATHLETE

Carlisle, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine thinks Jim Thorpe is "the greatest athlete the world has ever known."

Fine made that statement last night at a welcoming celebration given the famous Indian as a film biography of Thorpe's life was previewed here. Thorpe played football for the old Carlisle Indian school here 40 years ago.

"Jim Thorpe made football history back in 1907 through 1910," Fine said. "The stories told in the records all prove them true about Thorpe as a ball carrier. They were so good they made Thorpe the Paul Bunyon of the gridiron and, though we have had many great football stars since, none has approached his great playing."

The governor said "Jim gave us something to think about during his athletic career." Then, referring to recent scandals in the sports world, Fine said:

"But in the last 40 years, something has slipped. There is less emphasis on moral and spiritual values."

The famous athlete's son, Sgt. Carl Thorpe, who is stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., unveiled a stone tablet commemorating his father on the court house lawn.

Dr. Francis B. Haas Reappointed By Fine

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP) — Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction since 1939, held appointment today to another four-year term.

The 67-year-old education head was re-appointed to the post last night by Gov. John S. Fine. The appointment is subject to approval by the state Senate.

"I am happy to continue his really valuable services to the state," Fine said in announcing Haas' reappointment.

In accordance with a 1949 state law, Dr. Haas' salary will be boosted from $12,000 to $15,000 a year. The law increased salaries of most state agency heads, but forbade the increase to persons serving out terms at the time of enactment.

A native of Philadelphia, Dr. Haas graduated from Temple university and the University of Pennsylvania. He taught in the Philadelphia public schools from 1906 through 1920 when he became a staff member in the Department of Public Instruction.

WHERE TO GET FACTS ABOUT WAGE CONTROLS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP) — This explains how employees and employers can learn what they need to know about wage rises, now that the government has all wages under control of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB).

Everything in this story deals with wages except at the end where salaries are handled separately.

So far WSB has issued 15 general regulations on wage rises for individuals and groups of employees. They are extremely complicated. In one case an employer can give a rise without WSB permission. In others he must get WSB approval first.

May Be Puzzling

The regulations cut across the whole field of American work. But because there are so many different kinds of businesses, doing different kinds of work, and with different methods of pay, employers and employees may be puzzled.

The employee may wonder whether the boss is misleading him when he says WSB regulations won't permit rises in his case; and an employer may wonder whether he can give a raise and how he goes about it.

An employee must remember this: No matter what he finds out, the WSB can't force the boss to give him a raise. That's a problem for the man and his boss. The WSB simply sits on rises. It can't compel them.

Where To Get Facts

The employee and the employer can go to one of these two places for information:

1. The wage-hour office nearest you. There are about 80 wage-hour offices of the wage-hour division of the Labor Department scattered around the country. They are not part of WSB. They're another and separate government agency. But they're chipping in to help WSB on a big job.

2. WSB itself has opened offices in 14 large cities: Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Richmond, Atlanta, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Dallas, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle.

What can you get at the wage-hour offices? Copies of the regulations, particularly the one which applies to your case, plus examples of how it works in a case similar to yours. And the wage-hour staff may be able to give you additional verbal information.

More Red Tape

At the 15 WSB offices you'll get copies of the regulations, and examples to fit your case, plus explanations from the WSB staffs which have been drilled on these regulations.

Suppose, after such a visit, you're convinced you're one of the employers who can raise wages without direct WSB permission. What do you do?

Go ahead and raise them within the limits set forth in the regulation but—then you must file a report on what you did with the wage-hour office, not with the WSB office. The wage-hour people will forward your report to WSB. The latter will check over your report. If you were in error, WSB will tell you so and tell you to correct it.

Suppose you decide you're one of those employers who must get WSB permission to raise wages. You file an application for permission to do so. But—you file it with the wage-hour office, not with WSB. The wage-hour office will forward the application to WSB. Then the latter will consider your case and give a ruling.

Salaries Are Different

While wages are controlled by WSB, salaries are under the control of another board, the Salary Stabilization Board.

This board decides the problems of people who are not on a 40-hour week, who are not entitled to overtime, or are not represented by a union, or are executives.

Anyone puzzled about a salary raise question should write directly to the Salary Stabilization Board in

KALE IN THE LATE GARDEN

One-half cupful of cooked kale furnishes an adult human being over three times his daily requirement of vitamin A, half his vitamin C needs for the next 24 hours, plus other important vitamins and minerals. It is particularly healthful in late fall and early winter when family diets are likely to lack the bulk fiber and essential nutrients kale so liberally supplies.

Persons who habitually take refuge behind the excuse, "I don't like kale," should for their health's sake learn just how truly delicious this hardy relative of the cabbage can be when tender leaves are properly cooked with side pork (fat back) or otherwise well seasoned. Of course, kale is insipid when merely boiled in salted water. But it need not suffer from such culinary sacrilege. It belongs to vegetable royalty among greens crops and should be prepared accordingly.

Many experienced gardeners believe late kale is actually improved in flavor when it is exposed to light freezing. This indicates how well it fits into late gardening plans. In this latitude kale may be carried into January in excellent condition. And with a little special care clumps may be kept productive until early spring.

Late kale should be seeded on a raised row or ridge in order to protect the plants from later contamination by standing water. Many experienced growers make a ridge 2 to 3 feet wide and broadcast seed there. Surface ditches carry off surplus water.

Seed for the late crop should be sown in this latitude by the middle of August, although many gardeners obtain good yields year after year from sowings made as late as the first week in September. However, if seed is sown within the next two or three weeks, kale will reach edible size in late September and early October. Then if only the lower or older leaves are harvested, plants will continue to bear for several weeks. When winter finally closes in, loose straw, marsh hay or evergreen boughs should be placed over the plants to protect them from the drying effects of winter winds and from the evils of alternate freezing and thawing. From beneath the cover tender leaves may be cut amazingly far into winter.

Or along about the middle of November or even later vigorous plants may be taken up by their roots and moved to an old hotbed pit or coldframe and replanted firmly as though they were but seedlings. With proper shading, ventilation and general management, aided by use of sash during inclement weather, kale may be carried into late winter.

If seed is sown where the soil is mellow and where an earlier vegetable was liberally fertilized, such as potatoes, kale will need no additional fertilizer.

Dwarf Green Scotch Curled is perhaps the most popular variety but it is not as hardy as the lower growing Dwarf Curled Siberian. Many growers make a sowing of the former around August 1 for fall table use and a sowing of the harder variety later in the month for the important late crop.

There are few more economical and dependable forms of health insurance for the family in fall and winter diets than kale.

NOTES FOR LILY GROWERS

All lilies are natives of the northern hemisphere. Their most northern limits are southern Canada and Siberia, their most southern extent is Florida, Burma and northern India. No lilies have ever been found growing wild south of the equator.

The Federal Security building, South, Washington, D. C. This board doesn't yet have a field office arrangement for answering questions.

These facts indicate that lilies are by inheritance adapted for wide use in this latitude.

Species have been domesticated from bleak, cold mountains and from hot, humid valleys. They are at home in Europe, Asia and North America. No one type of soil will serve for all these wide-flung species and varieties. But lilies are a hardy race with distinct likes and dislikes. These traits stamp them strictly as individualists among ornamentals.

Bulbs of the beautiful Madonna lily should be planted earliest in the season because it must have sufficient time to form a rosette of leaves before winter. Late August or early September is the recommended planting date. Most other hardy sorts should be planted from early October as late as soil permits handling. Usually planting time is determined by bulb delivery dates.

Most species thrive in any fairly rich, light, sandy loams. Plenty of available moisture and good drainage are outstanding "musts" in choosing sites and preparing soils. From 12 to 18 inches of excellent drainage beneath the bulbs is good insurance.

Lilies should not be grown where strong winds lash the tops. Some surface shade of the soil, with the tops reaching into all-day sunshine, is desirable. Lilies cannot compete successfully with roots of nearby trees and shrubs. Abundant moisture can normally be attained by balancing the lower or rooting stratum with organic matter.

Lilies are divided into two main groups as regards depth of planting—stem-rooting and base-rooting. The first group must be planted deeper

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

than base-rooting sorts.

The beautiful L. auratum should be planted 8 to 10 inches deep; L. elegans about 7 inches; L. regale 8 to 9 inches; L. tigrinum 8 inches; L. umbellatum 8 inches, and L. tenuifolium only about 6 inches.

Among base-rooting lilies the Madonna should be covered no deeper than 3 inches. Others of this group require covering 3 to 5 inches. L. parryi and L. paralinum (Leopard lily) are usually planted 5 inches deep.

Roll bulbs of the Madonna lily in superfine dusting sulphur before planting.

The well loved L. regale, often called Regal lily, is one of the most hardy. It responds to well rooted (long weathered) cattle manure gathered from summer pasture fields and pulverized before working it through the rooting soil.

Many lilies throw out stem roots just below the ground surface. If these are disturbed or injured by cultivation or long drought, bulbs will be weakened for the next year's growth. Hand removal of weeds and grass is about all the tillage lilies need.

Lilies "like to be left alone." In other words, do not coddle them or lift the bulbs every year. But rather they should be left in their original location as long as they thrive. A little bone meal in the spring or some weathered cow manure thrown into the mulch will prolong their flowering life.

TIMELY FACTS ABOUT LAWNS

Don't "sprinkle" the lawn. When water is needed, soak the soil to a depth of 2 to 4 inches once a week in dry weather. Sparse sprinklings attract the tender rootlets toward the soil surface to obtain the inadequate moisture and there the sun kills or injures them the next day. Many practical lawn authorities believe sprinkling is by far the most outstanding cause of lawn failure.

If crabgrass is present the mower should be set to cut quite high, although mowing should be continued regularly throughout summer and early fall months. The shade created by leaving grass higher after cutting tends to choke crabgrass out. This invader dislikes shade. Here is a cue to control.

If moss invades the lawn, particularly where shade is dense, it usually is the sign of starvation. In the case of areas shaded by trees the solution is usually found in overcoming competition from the tree roots. If this cannot be accomplished by more liberal feeding and watering, substitution of English ivy, Vinca minor or other attractive ground cover may prove necessary. It is rarely wise to remove the competing tree roots.

One of the most successful lawn growers the editor ever knew used to say frequently, "I never have seen a person who had a grass-catcher on his mower who had a nice lawn." In other words, his advice was: Do not remove grass clippings.

Midsummer is an excellent time to lay in a supply of fertile loam for lawn repair in early September or late August, also for building a new lawn. A rich fence row or field loam relatively free from weed seed should be selected. It should be scattered in a long rectangular heap and watered so weed seeds near the surface will soon germinate. Then after these weed seedlings are destroyed the loam should be turned to expose another layer to moisture and sun to promote more weed seed growth. By repeating this treatment several times the soil can be generally freed from unwanted weed dangers.

Will a supply of manure be needed for late summer lawn building and repairs?

If enough rich loam is procurable, it is wise to omit all manure for enriching and lightening lawn soil. Here again the menace of weeds is involved. Fertile loam to begin with and systematic feeding of established lawns with commercial fertilizer are the two safest steps in meeting the plant food challenge.

In planning lawn building or general or even light repairs it is important to remember two paramount facts in the matter of soil placement: (1) Grass seldom roots deeper than 2½ to 4 inches; (2) The stratum beneath the deepest rooting level should be liberally filled with organic matter (decayed vegetation) to serve as a moisture reservoir in dry weather and a medium of drainage in wet periods.

Worked-over lawn soil for building or repairs should be given two or three weeks to settle before seed is sown. Around the first half of September is a wise date for sowing seed. These two facts afford a sound calendar for late summer lawn management.

But the most important factor

Train Wreck Near Metz Fatal To 10

Metz, France, Aug. 24 (AP) — The Basel-Calais express rammed into the rear of a Frankfurt-Paris train near here today. Ten persons, including two Americans, were killed, and possibly 40 others, about half remains. It is this: All unanswered questions and unsolved problems should be removed before building and repair time arrives. Therefore, the editor invites all lawn questions.

of them U.S. soldiers, were injured.

The two soldiers killed were identified as Alphonse MacLaughlin of Durham, N. C., and Everett J. Whalon of Norwich, Conn. U.S. Army headquarters said the injured Americans were sent to the 98th General hospital at Munich, Germany. Seventeen French soldiers were among the injured.

The express from Frankfurt, Germany, had just passed the Sanry-Sur-Nied station, 10 miles from Metz. The engineer halted the train on a safety signal. The Paris-bound train was 30 minutes late. The train from Basel, Switzerland, proceeding at about 50 miles an hour, rammed into the wooden car at the end of the Frankfurt train, smashing the car to bits and pushing the next one, a second-class carriage, on to the roof of the car ahead.

RENEW DISPUTE IN WAR GAMES

Fort BRAN, N. C., Aug. 24 (AP)—A longtime dispute between the army and air force over the proper control of tactical air power is an undercurrent today in the biggest war games conducted since World War II.

It's a disagreement that has simmered for several years. It became more acute after the Korean war started more than a year ago.

Some army and air force officers say privately the basic differences lie in the upper levels of command and not at the lower combat level.

Some officers indicate the dispute hardly can be settled until the joint chiefs of staff determine a policy which would apply to tactical air of all the services, including the marines. Tactical air support means striking at enemy tanks, guns, planes and troops at or near the front-line combat zones.

In brief, the air force contends the use of air power to support combat troops should remain centralized, with control maintained at army command levels.

Some army people argue the control should be with a lower echelon and the tactical air force should follow more closely the tactics of close support used by the marines. The marines control their own tactical air arm in the extremely close support of the leathernecks.

Plan New Town For Defense Workers

New York, Aug. 24 (AP)—A self-contained garden community that will house thousands of workers for new defense industries in the Delaware river valley is planned by Levitt & Sons, Inc.

The company announced yesterday that the new city, "programmed down to the last piece of shrubbery," will begin to rise this fall near the site of the Morrisville, Pa., plant of the U.S. Steel Corp. It will be named Levittown, Pa. Plans call for the eventual construction of 16,000 homes.

Levitt already has purchased more than 2,000 acres for the project in Langhorne and Tullytown. The location is about two miles from the main gate of the U.S. Steel's new $400,000,000 plant and midway between the steel mill and the Kaiser Metal Products Co. plant at Bristol, Pa.

The city will have its own shopping facilities, parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, town hall and other community facilities. Sites for schools and churches also have been plotted.

Says Truman Has Muzzled Employees

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Truman has been accused by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) of forbidding federal employees to "give Congress the truth about Communists who are in our government."

The senator also charged Wednesday that Ambassador At-Large Philip C. Jessup was formerly director of a Communist-

He and five other defendants were indicted yesterday by a Federal Grand jury on charges of conspiring to violate the Smith act prohibiting agitation for the violent overthrow of the federal government.

Steve Nelson Free On $20,000 Bail

Philadelphia, Aug. 24 (AP)—Steve Nelson, western Pennsylvania Communist leader, was free today under $20,000 bond put up by the Civil Rights Congress.

U.S. Commissioner Henry P. Carr yesterday accepted the Congress' cash mail guaranteeing Nelson's appearance at a scheduled hearing August 31. He was handed 13 new $1,000 bills, and $7,000 in $100 bills.

It was the first time since four top Communists jumped bond provided by the Congress that bail from that organization was accepted on a Communist defendant. Removal of Nelson to Pittsburgh will Broadcasting over the ABC network, McCarthy said an "incredibly fantastic order" barring federal employees from testifying on loyalty matters to Congress went into effect August 21, 1948—"just 17 days after the Hiss case broke."

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP)—A request for a legislative study of the effects of truck weights on state roads was before the House today. The request was made in a resolution introduced last night by Reps. Robert Kent (R-Crawford) and Samuel Dennison (R-Jefferson).

It would direct the joint state government, the legislature's research agency, to study the entire problem of truck weights on roads and determine what weights can be permitted commensurate with safety and economy.

WHY NOT HAVE A "BUFFER ZONE" FOR YOU, TOO?

Is There a Savings Account in The First National Bank of Gettysburg Standing Between You and Trouble?

There is much talk today of a "buffer zone" to be set up between contending forces.

There is a sound idea here for you. For after all, your life is more or less a battlefield of conflicting forces carrying you to defeat or victory.

We recommend a savings account in the First National Bank of Gettysburg as a bulwark between you and financial difficulties. In the present national emergency, you need to be building strength for yourself and at the same time to be adding your bit to the defense of your country.

Today is a time that calls for persistent, regular saving. Start now building your "buffer zone" with a savings account at the friendly First National Bank of Gettysburg.

SENATE EASES HOUSE TAX PLAN

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Senate Finance committee hopes to unveil today a rewritten plan to boost personal income taxes which will be easier on everybody's pocketbook than a system voted by the House.

The committee thought it had done so when it tentatively adopted a new formula Tuesday. But when tables showing the impact at various income levels were assembled the following day, committee members were surprised at the result. Their plan would have required most married couples in the $5,000 to $15,000 net income class to pay more than the House had voted.

After two days spent in recanting all the possibilities, Chairman George (D-Ga.) told newsmen he thought some definite action on personal income taxes would be disclosed today. The committee had tables prepared overnight and wanted to take a good look at them before making any announcements. George said he was sure the final plan would be easier on all classes of taxpayers than the House bill.

The delay in acting on individual taxes made it certain that the committee could not finish writing its version of the House-passed $7,200,000 revenue-boosting measure this week. The group still must act on corporation and excise taxes. George originally had suggested his group could get through today or tomorrow. However, the bill still could go to the Senate floor in early September. Assuming prompt action there and in the Senate-House conference, the new higher withholding rates could go into effect October 1—the date suggested by George.

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP)—A new House bill proposed today that delegate candidates to national presidential conventions be permitted to specify to the voters their choice for president. The candidate delegates would be allowed to issue statements indicating the president candidate they will support.

The matter of issuing a statement would be voluntary and the presidential choice would appear after the candidate for delegate's name on the primary election ballot.

CHRISTIANS IN PUBLIC LIFE

Matthew 5:13-16, 13:33; Acts 5:29; 1 Peter 3:13-18

Memory Selection: We must obey God rather than men.—Acts 5:29

Under the leadership of Moses the children of Israel were three days' out from the Red Sea in their journey from slavery in Egypt to freedom in Canaan. Arriving at Marah they found the water bitter, and bitter were their complaints to their leader. Following divine direction Moses thrust a certain "tree" into the water and it became sweet and palatable.

A public calamity had been averted. Centuries later Jesus, knowing how corrupted and bitter much of life was, told His disciples they possessed powers that could change life and make it wholesome. He compared them to salt, light and leaven. He depended on them to continue the salutary work he had begun.

Warnings
Every one in His hearing knew what Jesus meant when He spoke of salt, light and leaven. They were among the most useful articles of the household. Salt was necessary to preserve, season and add flavor to food. Beas as well as man required it, and precious were the places where deposits of the valuable commodity could be procured. But Jesus warned His hearers to keep their salt from deteriorating. Salt can spoil. Christianity can lose its power to regenerate; to preserve and to flavor with joy the redeemed life. If the Church of Christ is to be the saving force in society she must retain the spirit and consecration of the Founder. Similarly must the individual Christian guard the high quality of his discipleship if he is to be effective in personal and public life. Integrity is greatly needed in the public areas of today's life.

About light, Jesus assumes the quality and purity of light. He warns how it must be placed to do the most good. Under cover is no place for it. A monastery is not the best place for a Christian. Light serves two purposes. It reveals things that can only thrive in dark places. Doers of evil prefer the night. Iniquity in loves darkness rather than light. Again and again corruption in public life has been dissipated merely by letting the light of publicity fall upon it.

Again, and this is more important, light shows us the way to go. It points out direction and pathways. Men whose guiding light are truth and righteousness are sorely needed in public life. These are honest men but their numbers must be increased, for the daily parade of crime, and near crime, is appalling. We are at times fearful of dangers from without, but may not our real foes be within our nation? Crooked men in

Our little boy has brought a new joy and inspiration into our lives, since he came to us about a year and a half ago.

The little fellow is having a great time learning to adjust himself to life on this planet. He is a keen youngster with wide, questioning eyes which are constantly observing what goes on around him.

He watches our every movement, and occasionally we find him trying to imitate them. And that gives us food for a lot of serious thought.

How should we as parents try to live before this youngster who seems to be copying our ways? If we want him to grow up to be an honest, straightforward, God-fearing man, we must set that kind of example before him.

So we're reading our Bible again and going back to church. We want our little boy surrounded by the best influences, so that he may grow up to be a fine, strong man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Plane Crashes In Alaska; 9 Killed

Anchorage, Alaska, Aug. 24 (AP) — A C-47 transport plane with nine persons aboard crashed at Summit, 152 miles north of here on the Alaska railroad, at 8:42 Wednesday night (1:42 a.m. EST Thursday.) (1:42 a.m. EST Thursday.)

First reports indicated all were killed. The plane was enroute to Eielson air base near Fairbanks from Emendorf air base at Anchorage. A civil aeronautics administration radio officer at Summit reported he had talked to the pilot of the plane shortly before the crash but was not informed of any trouble.

Contact was broken and the operator said he saw the plane diving into the runway at Summit. Bad weather kept search planes from Summit. The Alaska railroad sent an ambulance car to the crash site with doctors and a rescue team. The air force withheld names of those aboard.

Killer Hurricane Spends Its Fury

Tampico, Mexico, Aug. 24 (AP) — The killer hurricane that raged over tropical seas all week taking more than 150 lives and causing millions of dollars in damage, was blowing itself out today in the mountains of Mexico.

The storm—described as the worst recorded in Mexico—spent its final fury over the oil port of Tampico yesterday. At least one person was killed here and the damage was expected to run far above $1,000,000. Twenty-seven persons were officially reported injured here—unverified reports placed the casualties as high as 300.

The Old Court House Museum in Reeves, Miss., occupies the Warren County Court House built by slave labor.

office; chisels at our public funds; deceit in sports; activities of the frightful underworld—all these call for the purifying light, and every citizen has at least one candle which he should use—the vote.

Changed Lives

Like salt and light, heaven (or yeast) is a silent force that works a wholesome change. Only a small portion placed in prepared dough turns it into bread. The kingdom of heaven is like that. Many an area of human life has been changed by the heaven of a Christian mission; many an individual life, too, has been changed by the penetrator of the silent power of the Word of God.

Members of the early Church gave abundant proof of the potency stored in the salt, light and heaven of the Kingdom. They went out into public places and preached the Word. So effective were they that it was declared they "turned the world upside down." The love these early Christians preached and practiced was astounding to pagan observers. It was a new heaven that worked wonders and it is still as powerful when shed abroad. In unexpected places and to a surprising degree the heaven is at work. It is not too much to expect that increasing areas of our common public life will feel the effects of the silent force of Christ's gospel until the whole lump is leavened.

Doubt Legality Of Anti-Red Measure

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP)—The state Justice department opposes passage of a pending Communist bill in the Legislature because "of grave doubts as to its constitutionality."

The measure, passed by the House and pending in the Senate would outlaw the Communist party by name in Pennsylvania and make membership in it a felony.

Deputy Attorney General Robert L. Kunzig said the bill if enacted would be "extremely difficult to enforce."

Kunzig urged, instead, passage of a federal law by Congress on Communists. "Then it would be uniform for the entire country and we would not have a hodge-podge of state laws on the subject," he said.

LITTLESTOWN GIRL QUEEN OF FIRE COMPANIES

Miss Kitty Eckenrode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Eckenrode, near town, was crowned Queen of Adams County at the third annual beauty contest held at the Kingsdale Fire company carnival Thursday evening. Miss Eckenrode, who wore a blue net evening gown, was crowned by Miss Doris Hann, Two Taverns, 1950 Queen of Adams county. The newly crowned queen received the loving cup, $40 in cash and a corsage.

Second place winner was Miss Shirley Crouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Crouse, Littlestown R. 1. Miss Crouse was attired in a fuchsia taffeta gown, and she was awarded $25 in cash and a corsage. The third prize winner was Miss Dolores Frew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Frew, Chambersburg street, Gettysburg. Miss Frew wore a yellow taffeta gown and her prize was $15 in cash and a corsage.

Six girls participated in the contest. In addition to the winners, they were Miss Shirley Miller, Hanover; Miss Nadine Crouse, Littlestown R. 1, and Miss Patsy Sandbar, Frederick. Judging was on the basis of personality, poise, facial beauty and general appearance. Judges for the affair were Maurice Rishel, York; Clair D. Worley, York, and John Manspeaker, Westminster. Chuck Zink, Hanover, acted as master of ceremonies for the contest, which took place on a platform attractively decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers. As the girls appeared on the platform and during the judging, music was furnished on the piano by Don Trostle, of Hanover.

The carnival grounds were crowded for the beauty contest and large crowds were on hand for the carnival activities each evening during the week. On Monday evening the 101 Ranch Boys of York entertained. The special prize, a breakfast set, given away that evening, was received by Maurice Jones, of Hanover. Wrestling was featured on Tuesday evening, at which the special prize, a square tub electric wash machine, was received by L. E. Smith, of Taneytown. The Bunk House Boys, of York, furnished entertainment on Wednesday evening. James H. Spalding, Littlestown R. D., received the electric range given away that evening. The Tones, York, will provide music this evening, when an electric water heater will be the special prize. The Littlestown high school band, under the direction of Paul A. Harner, will entertain on Saturday evening. A tractor with hydraulic lift will be given away on the closing night of the carnival. Rides, concessions, cake walks, refreshments and games are featured every evening.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the fire company will serve full course of roast suppers this evening beginning at 6 o'clock and on Saturday beginning at 4 p.m. The auxiliary is conducting a bazaar stand this evening and tomorrow at the carnival.

Football Tickets For Season On Sale

It has been announced that season football tickets for the 1951 term at the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school are now on sale and may be purchased at Marshman's Rexall Drug store or at Marvin's Cut Rate store. The first game will be played on Friday, September 7, between the Littlestown Thunderbolts and the Biglerville high school team on the Littlestown Memorial field.

The Thunderbolts will conduct their first football camp this year beginning on Monday and continuing throughout next week. The grid-ers will sleep in the school gymnasium, eat in the cafeteria and drill on their home field. The Thunderbolts practiced every evening this week, while living at home. The camp is in charge of the football coach, Clayton L. Evans, assisted by George H. Dittow and Maurice E. Bream, of the high school faculty. This school term begins the fifth season of the football at Littlestown for the Laurel league entrants.

Flickinger Reunion

The annual Flickinger reunion will be held Sunday, at St. John's Grove, near town. A basket lunch will be enjoyed at 12:30 p.m., and a business meeting will take place at noon. A program will follow and group games will be played.

FAMILY TO MEET

The 18th annual reunion of the Byers clan will be held on Sunday afternoon at Big Pipe Creek park, near Taneytown. The members of the clan and their families will enjoy a basket lunch at noon, and a planned program will be held at 2:30 o'clock.

Class Of '36 Plans Reunion On Sunday

Members of the class of 1936 of the Littlestown high school will hold a reunion on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kindig, near town. The reunion will be held in the form of an outing and the members and their families will meet at the Kindig home at 3 p.m. or after, that afternoon. They are asked to bring their own picnic lunch as well as a card table for serving. It has been announced that Harold Schriver, the class advisor, will be in attendance at the affair. Members who wish further information may contact Miss Grace Kindig, Carlisle, or Mrs. Robert Feiser, Taneytown.

The Ladies Aid society of Bart's E.U.B. church, near Hanover, will hold its August meeting on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the church social hall. Those comprising the August committee are Mrs. Ray Heiser, Mrs. Norman Miller and Mrs. Lewis Kirkhofe.

Eagles Auxiliary Will Elect Monday

The Ladies Auxiliary to Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, Fraternal Order of Eagles, met Wednesday evening at the aerie home, West King street. Mrs. John A. Sentz, acting chairman, presided at the meeting. It was announced that the institution of the organization will take place in September, when a charter will be secured. Fifty-one persons have signed their intentions of joining the auxiliary by singing the charter. It was decided to hold the next meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock when officers will be selected. All those who have signed the charter are requested to be present and others wishing to join the organization are invited to attend. They are asked to contact Mrs. Sentz before the Monday meeting.

You can Beat the Bushes—but you can't Beat this

If you want to know why shrewd car shoppers are saying "Smart Buy's Buick," take a look at this.

It's the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's roomier than most 4-door sedans, higher-powered than many costlier cars—and priced, as you can see, right down near the lowest.

Now, we ask you: where can you beat it for the money?

Can you beat this beauty on looks and style and rich bearing in any other car near its price?

Can you match, at the same money, the big power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine (128hp with Dynaflo Drive*)—or the big miles-per-gallon figure it delivers with such thrills?

Can you equal this traveler's roominess in any other car, of comparable cost—get full-size headroom, legroom and hiproom both front and rear in any other 2-door automobile?

Can you come even near the gentle levelness of its ride and the solid steadiness of its going—have coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube keel beneath you—except in another Buick?

And where can you top the restful ease and luxurious smoothness of this sweetheart's Dynaflo Drive* in any other automobile at any price?

The answers, from a lot of certain-sure folks, sum up to a great big, "YOU CAN'T!"

But why take anyone else's word for it? Come in and get your own answers. Look over this bedrock-priced Buick—compare it with any other automobile at the same money—and you'll agree you can't beat this smartest of buys.

SAYS IPR WAS "RED SCHOOL"

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—Louis Budenz said Thursday the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR) was "completely under control of the Communist party" when he was a party member several years ago. He said the Communists spoke of the IPR as "the little Red school house."

Budenz is a former editor of the "Daily Worker," Communist publication. He broke publicly with the party in 1945 and is now on the faculty of Fordham university.

The one time Communist leader testified before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. The Senators won J. Killalea, Gettysburg, R. D.

The Drum and Bugle Corps to the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will serve as the musical accompaniment to the Irish Fire company at a parade in Chambersburg on Saturday. The members of the organization will travel by bus, leaving the post home, West King street, at 12 o'clock. The parade will form at 1:30 p. m., and move at 2 p. m.

RACCOONS—Hunting season begins at 7 a. m. on the first day, and ends at Noon on last day (see instructions below concerning trapping). May be hunted day or night.

DEER—Even though there are three separate seasons for taking deer, a hunter may not kill more than one deer during the three combined 1951 seasons, whether hunting individually or with a team or hunting party. A Special Archery License is required during bow and arrow season, issued only by Dept. of Revenue, Harrisburg, at a fee of $2.00. Antlerless Deer Licenses are issued by County Treasurers and the Dept. of Revenue, Harrisburg, at a fee of $1.00, and valid only in the County for which issued. Farm occupancies permitted by law to hunt without a license may also hunt for Antlerless Deer during the Antlerless Season on the same land as for other game. See Digest issued with hunting license for details. Under the law, no application for an Antlerless Deer License shall be approved after December 15, 1951. The county quotas of Antlerless Deer Licenses which apply to each county throughout the Commonwealth (Philadelphia) are shown on the application blanks for each license and published in the Game News. Application blanks may be secured from County Treasurers, Other License Issuing Agents, the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Game Commission, Harrisburg. The County Treasurer is authorized by law to issue 60% of the quota of Antlerless Deer Licenses for his county and the remaining 40% of the quota of Antlerless Deer Licenses may be issued by the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue, Harrisburg, Pa.

The quota available for Adams County is 600 licenses.

REVENUE—The use of snares is prohibited in all counties except by special permit.

SHOOTING HOURS FOR WATERFOWL AND OTHER MIGRATORY GAME BIRDS—Federal regulations apply except that on November 1, 1951 there shall be no shooting before 9 a. m. and from November 2, 1951 to end of respective seasons, no shooting before 7 a. m. No Duck hunting before 12 o'clock noon any day during season.

Labels—The following is a summary of the rules and regulations to be the act of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, notice of which is published in accordance with the provisions of the Act cited.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—Miss Carrie Hahn, Waynesboro road, spent several days during the week in Baltimore with relatives.

Dennis Boyle, son of Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph Boyle, East Main street, celebrated his fifth birthday anniversary on Tuesday.

Miss Ada Wagner, Trenton, N. J., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seltzer. She was a dinner guest on Tuesday evening at the home of John M. Roddy, Sr.

Miss Jean Topper and Miss Elizabeth are inquiring into whether there have been subversive influences on U. S. Far Eastern policy.

Chairman McCarran (D.-Nev.) contends the IPR has influenced official policy. The IPR is a private organization, formed in the 1920s, with the declared aim of promoting knowledge of the Pacific area.

Budenz told the senators that he attended Communist Politburo meetings at which IPR officials received orders from the then Communist leader, Earl Browder. He called IPR a "captive" organization "completely under control of the Communist party."

beth McCullough left Wednesday to spend several days in New York city.

Mrs. Robert Gillelan spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wood, Reisterstown, Md. She was accompanied there by her grandson, Harry Wood, who has been visiting with his grandparents.

Miss Nancy Wood returned to her home in Baltimore on Sunday after spending a month with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold. She was accompanied home by Miss Patricia Lingg, who is spending the week.

Mrs. J. Lewis Topper, North Seton avenue, is visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Topper, Baltimore.

Mrs. Joseph Gullo and sons have returned to their home at Oneida, N. Y., after a two-week visit with her mother, Mrs. Guy Topper. The Misses Adele and Leota Topper, sisters of Mrs. Gullo, accompanied them to Oneida and spent several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Saylor and son, Roy, Jr., visited Tuesday with Mrs. James Saylor, Motters Station, and with other relatives and friends in the community.
